

Don't worry,
skilled public
service workers
will be
re-employed
where they're
most wanted.

Cutting efficient and innovative public services inevitably results in an exodus of valuable skills, whether people lose their jobs directly or leave of their own accord. When you vote in November, use your voice in support of public services. Public services keep New Zealand working